Odem Rides His First Winner of the Season With Uncle Urinh—Tickle Carries Little Miss Littlefield's Colors to Victory -Monte Carlo Breezes In-Entries.

WASHINGTON, March 29 .- The bookmakers experienced another hard day at Bennings to-day. On top of the success of sixfavorites yesterday, four more came home with the oney this afternoon, while the other winwere also generally supported. The weather continued warm and the crowd numbered more than 5,000 turf enthusiasts. With the exception of the handicap, in which there were only two starters, the fields were all large and, while class was generally lacking, the sport was of a high order of excellence.
George Odom had his first mount of the season on Kansas Price's Uncle Uriah in the last race, a handicap at a mile and

George Odom had his first mount of the season on Kansas Price's Uncle Uriah in the last race, a handicap at a mile and 100 yards. The Hugnenot was scratched, leaving Jamies F the only other starter. Uncle Uriah, however, apparently had the race at his mercy, for he closed at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 8 and proceeded to walk off with the purse in the easiest sort of style by a couple of lengths. Odom got a round of applaue from the old turfmen with whom he has always been a favorite.

It was practically a unanimous opinion that W. L. Maupin's Canteloupe would win the first race, at six furlongs, because of her splendid performance yesterday, when she was virtually left at the post, yet finished inside of the money. So the talent backed her all over the ring at 3 to 5, while Port Arthur, Burning Glass and Winchester also attracted considerable support. But Canteloupe did not have a snap after all, for Baird, aftermaking most of the pace with her, had to go to a drive to win by a head from Ralbert, who was also a head before Port Arthur. Ralbert, who was backed down to 12 to 1 from 80, showed marked improvement, under a clever ride by J. Henderson, who was shut in soon after the start.

Miss Thelma Walden Littlefield, 9 years old, provided the winner of the second race for maiden two-year-olds at four furlongs, in a smart looking filly named Tickle, by Filligrane—Merriness. Tickle was tipped and played at 7 to 1, but the talent plunged on August Belmont's Sunglow, a fine youngster in a smart looking filly named Tickle, by Fili-grane-Merriness. Tickle was tipped and played at 7 to 1, but the talent plunged on August Belmont's Sunglow, a fine youngster by Octagon-Glory, who had worked impressively in his trials. There was also a heavy play on W. L. Maupin's Cologne, who was backed from 3 to 1 to 3 to 2. When it came to racing, however, Romanelli took Tickle to the front, where she quickly raced the others did his best, but Father Bill Daly's Moon-shipe, a Peep o' Day filly, who was 60 to t in the betting, beat him a length and a half for the place.

n the betting, beat him a length and a half for the place.
All of the wise bettors took Monte Carlo a the third race, at five and a half furlongs, and hammered him down to even money. The Pontiac horse was at his best and fairly breezed home with the money, beating Gold Dome, backed down to tens, by three lengths. Yorkshire Lad, a 12 to 1 shot, was a poor third. For Luck, second choice, had early speed, but after leading for half a mile she gtopped for the reason that she was plainly thort of work.

No mistake was made by the form players when they made Ninnasquaw the favorite in the fourth race, at five and a half furlongs in which maidens went to the post. They beat the odds down to 7 to 5 and the mare held her field safe at all stages, winning in a romp by five lengths. Step Away, 15 to 1, closed with a rush and nipped the place from Royal Window, 5 to 1, by a head. Al Stokes's Northville, 60 to 1, was a head out of the money. The latter would have been second in another stride.

HOW MARVIN HART WON. Southerner Fought Gamely and Got Verdict on This Score.

The victory of Marvin Hart over Jack Johnson was discussed in town yesterday. Hart's success was popular because the majority of the ring patrons think it paves lengths. There was a lot of crowding at the start and Sunglow was knocked out of his stride, so that he had no chance. Cologne prove himself a first class pugilist. The only thing he showed in the scrap was that he was capable of taking a lot of punishment. Johnson's defeat was as big a surprise to Hart as it was to the negro, and although the crowd as a body upheld Referee Greggains, he could only find one favorable thing to say in Hart's favor, and that was that he forced the fighting.

At the end of the bout Hart was the worse scarred of the two. His face was so puffed and bruised that one could hardly recognize him. On the other hand Johnson was un-marked.

Greggains established his right to his derision because Hart had done all the forcing in the contest, while Johnson, outside of his admitted cleverness, held on considerably. He devoted himself solely to left upper-cuts and once in a while brought over a right hook. His blows, though, did not have as Royal Window, 5 to 1, by a head. Al Stokes's Northville, 60 to 1, was a head out of the money. The latter would have been second in another stride.

O. L. Richards's Only One was an unsuccessful favorite in the fifth race, also for maidens, at seven furlongs. He was backed down to 7 to 5, but ran third, showing that he needed another race, Lord Aintree, 4 to 1, displayed improved form over his previous race, and standing a hard drive he won by a head from Miss Modesty, also 4 to 1, who had a length and a half over the favorite.

The Washington Jockey Club has decided to enlarge the betting rive before the fall meeting and may also built a new clubhouse. So far the meeting has been a record breaker in point of attendance and business. It has been arranged to run the Southern Steeple chase for Hunters and the Amateur Cup for gentlemen riders on April 5. The summaries:

JEFFRIES TO HART.

Says He Will Meet Southerner if Public Thinks He Is in His Class.

Champion Jim Jeffries was as proud as a peacock over the fact that Marvin Hart had defeated Johnson on points at San Francisco on Tuesday night, and immediately after he heard the decision he announced his desire to meet the winner. .
"I am extremely glad that Hart won,"

he said, "but I am sorry that he did not knock the negro out. Still, he got the decision, and I guess that it must be all right. If Johnson had been the winner nothing in the world would have induced me to try conclusions with him. I have all along said that my determination to draw the color line was sincere and that not even public opinion, which I admit is very powerful, could induce me to change my mind.

from what I have read in the papers. never saw him fight, but he must be all right he is young and strong, and, unlike Jack Munroe, has had considerable experience. But before I directly consent to a match I must ask the public first if they will stand for me to meet him. You see, I am not over-anxious for a repetition of the Munroe farce, because when I fight I want to give those who pay to see me do battle a good run for their money. And the only way this end can be gained is by giving me a worthy opponent." "Should the matter be arranged, when do you think you will be able to meet Hart?"

was asked.
"Well," replied the champion, quickly,
"some time next fall would suit me. As you are aware, I am booked up to July with my theatrical show, and as it will require at least six weeks for me to get into trim, I would not be able to fight Hart until some time next

BROOKLYN'S DOG SHOW STARTS

SOCIETY FROM HEIGHTS, HILLS AND OUTSKIRTS IN THE RINK.

Shoe Town Pride Wins Buildeg Honors -Endeliffe Conquest Whips His Dad in Old Lugiish Sheepdogs-Fair Share of Ribbons for Resident Fanciers.

Brooklyn went to the dogs yesterday with a unanimity and enthusiasm to indicate a successfor the third annual show of the Long Island Kennel Club. It is in progress at the Clermont Avenue Rink and will not end until, Saturday night, when there will be whippet races. Society flocked to the exhibition of blue ribbon dogs and dogs decked with the ribbons denoting less merit from the Heights and Hill, the Park Slope, Bedford, Eastern Parkway and every fashionable colony in the city of distances between Greenpoint and Bensonhurst, and the opening of the canine congress was pronounced a brilliant one.

Brooklynites won a fair share of the prizes, and they expect to be in the fighting to-day, especially in the Boston terrier classes. This although the famous Eastover Launcelot is on from Philadelphia and Frank Dole's Lady Highball, a champion at 12 months, is benched from New Haven, for the home fanciers in the breed-among them Dwight Moore, Joseph M. Dale, Joseph G. Geoghegan, Henry Wagner and Henry B. Vanderveer believe that they can match Bostons with any one. Home fanciers to win a share of ribbons yesterday included F. F. Coite and John F. Collins in bulldogs; Dr. DeMund in Russian wolfhounds, and Thomas King with grayhounds, while Clair Foster, George in Russian wolfhounds, and Thomas King with grayhounds, while Clair Foster, George Fergueson and the Misses Aliger and Grace of the Red Brook Kennels were among the winners resident on Long Island. One of the odd sights was Mrs. S. F. Fahnestock's French buildog Richeileu, which has been raised with a litter of kittens and shares the cage with two of his foster brothers.

Judking began at 10 o'clock in the morning, proceeding simultaneously in four rings. James Mortimer had the builk of the classes, and the buildogs in particular taxed his judgment. There were seventeen in the puppy class, and while there was nothing sensational among them the large entry is an indication of the active interest in the breed. Among the blue ribbon buildogs in different classes were Oscar Herdman's Aldobaran, F. F. Coite's Pewter Mug and John L. Collins's Rodney Coronation and Naughty Girl. The pick of the basket, which won out in limit, open and winners, for dogs over fortyfive pounds, was a fresh importation, now owned in Newark, Shoe Town Pride. This buildog is worth a special trip to the show. He is a dark brindle, with large head and well placed ears, splendid shoulders and good stern, but somewhat lacking in wrinkle—in all, one of the sort to last and be of use as well as an ornament.

In Old English sheepdogs Stylish Boy, the noted winner here and sbroad, met an unexpected defeat from Endeliffe Conquest. This one is by their Stylish Boy, which may be a minor consolation to Frohman and Dilingham, and was brought out from England by Mrs. George S. Thomas. The well known Southport Pendragon won in rough collies, and in the dog classes for the Russian wolfhounds the Valley Farm won in pupples, and Dr. DeMund made a sweep in the other classes with Princess Vedma and Staritza.

GOLF.

Weather permitting, there will be a handicap at the Scarsdale Golf Club on Saturday, as the course is in fine condition and all ready for the season. The hills and hollows are drained by the natural slope of the ground, which always brings this links to hand early in the spring. C. A. W. Fox continues for the fourth season as the professional at

The Golf Association of Philadelphia is still in doubt as to where to hold the match with the Metropolitan Golf Association team on May 20. The match last spring was at Bala; before that at Huntingdon Valley, Merion and Wissahickon. All links look alike to the New Yorkers when they are guests on a special occasion of this sort, so there is no special hurry to fix the date on their account. The Washington-Philadelphia imatch, fixed for April 22, will be on a Washington course this time.

One of the cups to be played for at the Eastern Parkway Golf Club is offered by Harry P. Matthews under the novel stipulation that all who exter for it must play him. When all the entries are at hand, the donor will announce the conditions in detail, which meanwhile are a subject of much speculation among his fellow members. Opinions are divided as to whether the cup is to be given to whomever Mr. Matthews beats the worst or to whoever administers the worst drubbing to him, for one thing, and there are minor worries, such as whether the winner or loser in each match is to fill the cup. The donor may publish a livie schedule of his own for the different matches, with the system of counting and any special ground rules.

AINEN, March 20.—The Palmetto handleap began to-day at the Palmetto golf links with twenty-eight entries. Mrs. C. M. Hinkle and S. J. Colford, Jr., tied with a net score of 79. The tie will be played off to-morrow.

AIREN, S. C., March 29.—In the semi-finals at the Palmetto golf links for the Southern Cross cup. T. G. Stevenson beat M. Wright by I up and H. A. Sands beat P. Grant I up at nineteenth hole. For the handicap consolation cup the first round was played in the morning as follows: J. C. Tappin beat J. W. Tailor, 5 and 4; S. J. Colford over C. Bohlen by default; C. R. Simpkins beat F. O. MORLEY TO COACH AGAIN. Smith and Wright to Assist Him-Sanford

Disregarded. Gerald B. Curtis, '06 science, yesterday made the formal announcement that the coaching staff of the Columbia football eleven coaching staff of the Columbia football eleven of 1905 would be made up as follows: William Raymond Morley. '02 science, head coach Richard S. Smith, '04 law, and Charles A. Wright, '01 law, field coaches: Duncan H. Browne, '05 college, and William C. Duell, '04 college, assistant coaches. This announcement sets at rest all the rumors that George Foster Sanford would resume control of football affairs at Columbia. It marks also a step toward something like a system in football coaching at the local university.

Morley, who has had altogether too much to do recently, will be relieved of a great deal of the bother of the coaching, which, incidentally, will be a decided benefit to some of the men. All the men who have been asked to participate in this new arfangement are graduates. It is likely, however, that Smith and Wright will be the oally offes to receive compensation for their services. Both have previously coached for money.

BASEBALL. Improved Work by the New York Americans

Brings Victory. JACKSON, Miss., March 29 .- A call on Gov. Vardaman in the morning and a vastly im-proved game in the afternoon was the programme for the New York Americans to-day. The Governor remarked that baseball was one of the games that kept improving, and the New Yorks took the hint and made a decided brace over their recent playing. They shut out Jackson by a score of 5 to 0. The New Yorks have had excellent pitching all along, and this afternoon the high class box work of Hogg and Whitley was supplemented by good hitting and activity on the bases. The men woke up, put on steam and played the game as they can play it. Not a hit was made off Hogg in the first five nnings. Chase's début in fashionable company was Chase's debut in fashionable company was full of promise. He was fast as a streak around first base, handling his hands on thrown and ground balls with conspicuous skill, and was in the game all the time at the bat. He made a single, a sacrifice, stole a base and supplied his share of ginger. "I never saw a more likely man break into fast company." said Willie Keeler, after the game. "He is light on his feet, graceful, has a fine whip and knows what to do with the ball." Chase throws left handed and bats right handed. A sensational one handed catch by Fultz, the catching and batting of Kleinow and the batting of Dougherty, who suddenly got his eye on the ball, were other features of to-day's game. The score:

off the presidency by P. T. Powers, who had held that office continuously for twelve years. For some time there has been a plan on foot, engineered by George Stallings of Buffalo, Edward Hanlon of Baltimore, W. W. Burnham of Newark and Howard C. Griffith of Jersey City, to force Powers to resign, but as there are eight clubs in the league there has been a firm deadlock. Griffith recently withdrew from the presidency of the Jersey City club, but still held the right to represent the club at all Eastern League meetings, where he could cast its vote. But recently Griffith has been travelling all over the country Jostering a combination of the Class A minor Jeagues, with an accompanying plan to make some sort of a war on the American League. As a result of his efforts many players in the Eastern League have refused to sign contracts, expecting that war would soon be declared and that they would have a chance to secure increased pay as a result. For some time there has been a plan on foot, engineered by George Stallings of Buffalo, Edward Hanlon of Baltimore, W. W. Burnham of Newark and Howard C. Griffith of Jersey City, to force Powers to resign, but as there are eight clubs in the league there has been a firm deadlock.

Griffith recently withdrew from the presidency of the Jersey City club, but still held the right to represent the club at all Eastern League meetings, where he could cast its vote. But recently Griffith has been travelling all over the country fostering a combination of the Class A minor Jeagues, with an accompanying plan to make some sort of a war on the American League. As a result of his efforts muny players in the Eastern League have refused to sign contracts, expecting that war would soon be declared and that they would have a chance to secure increased pay as a result.

This attitude of the players has not been a source of pleasure to the club owners, especially those in control of the Jersey City club, the directors of which held a meeting last Monday, it is said, and decided that in future Griffith, who has no money invested in the club, could not represent the organization in the councils of the Lastern League. Instead of Griffith the directors voted to have William Murray, the manager of the team, do the voting for the club at the coming schedule meeting.

With Griffith no longer able to control the Jersey City club's vote, therefore, the deadlock appears to have been broken, for Murray is a close friend of Powers. At the meeting of the league several months are Powers was reelected president for this year, but the opposition to him was caused by a wrangle and a difference of opinion as to the minor league demands. Griffith, Hanion & Co. have wanted Powers to resign, but the veteran president has ignored their requests completely, and has also refrained from calling a schedule meeting of the league, although the schedule of dates was completed some time ago.

Rain Prevents New York Nationals' am e. Nashvitte, Tenn., March 20. The first clash to-day between the New York Nationals clash to-day petween the New York Nationals and the strong Southern League team of Nashville was prevented by a heavy downpour of rain. The capital city of Tennessee has been experiencing a dry spell, but Jupiter Pluvius made up for lost time after the New Yorks arrived here. Luther Taylor, who is a big favorite in Nashville, was carded to pitch for New York, and the advance sale of tickets, at the unlown office indicated a large crowd at the uptown office indicated a large creat the weather had been propitious.

Jack Cheshro, the star pitcher of the New York Americans, wound up his task of cagching the Harvard University pitchers vesterday and will strive in town this afternoon in time to take a train for the South, where he will get busy with Clark Griffith's men.

POLICE STOP BOLT.

Pardelle, After Being Beaten, Huris Shad Link Through the Ropes.

The police took a hand in the wrestling match between Leo Pardello, the Italian heavyweight, and Shad Link of Baltimore at Saengerbund Hall in Brooklyn on Tuesday night. The men were to have met to finish under catch-as-catch-can rules, but the bout was stopped after 24 numutes of work in the second hout.

From the start it was apparent that Link was Pardello's master, and as usual the Italian indulged in tactics that were far from being sportsmänlike or fair Link seconds, pinning his man's shoulders firmly to the mat.

seconds, ninning his man's shoulders firmly to the mat.

After the men had rested ten minutes Link assumed the argressive and without any trouble hurled Fardello all over the mat. Pardello was angry and broke the rules repeatedly, and on one occasion made a kirk at link's fate. Fardello should have been disqualified, but the referee allowed the match to go on. At the end of the minutes Pardello got Link near the end of the ring, which was about four feet from the level of the floor, and toesed him through the rones, dislorating link link's left shoulder. The fall was a hard one and Link remained on the floor for marity two minutes in a dazed condition. The crowd himsed Pardello's action, but before anything was done Link limped into the ring to finish the bout. Here Police Captain Gallacher interfered and called the bout to a halt. Pardello was declared the winner.
